Pronunciation Practice!

Look at the rules for pronunciation of 'not'. Practice saying the sentences with the correct pronunciation.

Pronunciation Rule: In a sentence, 'not' receives the stress; when contracted, the stress moves to the helping verb

He is not an honest person

He isn't an honest person.

Do not give out information over the phone.

Don't give out information over the phone.

I cannot remember the password.

I can't remember the password.

You should not throw your credit card statements in the garbage.

Tom did not believe the phone scam.

Tom didn't believe the phone scam.

The store will not provide a refund.

The store won't provide a refund.

Practice! With a partner, take turns making up sentences using the following forms.

should not shouldn't could not couldn't would not wouldn't will not won't cannot can't do not don't is not isn't has not hasn't

Language Focus!

Look at the following rules for 'not' in English.

Grammar Rule:	Examples:
Place 'not' after the first helping verb Exceptions: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• with simple present and simple past verb forms with no helper, use do/does/did• when the 'be' verb is the main verb, no helper is needed	I will not buy that product. They do not like telemarketers. She is not a newcomer to Canada.

Practice! Change the following positive statements into negative ones. Read them aloud and practice your pronunciation.

1. You should give your credit card information to anyone who asks.
2. It is good to send cash advances.
3. Keep your personal information in a place where people can easily find it.
4. Most phone calls that claim you have won something are real contests.
5. It's safe to provide personal information to people over the phone.
6. Criminals care about elderly people and will try to protect them.
7. You have to answer the phone if you don't recognize the caller ID.

Tips to Remember!

Read the Learning about the Law wikibook section on Older People and Elder Law (Protecting yourself and your money), or the Learning about the Law booklet, p. 24-25. With a partner, make a list of dos and don'ts to avoid scams. Share your list with the class.

Dos	Don'ts
be careful with your personal information	don't keep passwords in your wallet

Act it out!

Read through the telephone scam conversation with a partner.

A: "Hello, can I speak to _____, please."

B: "Yes, this is her/him."

A: "Congratulations, you've won a trip to Florida!"

B: "Who's calling, and how did you get this number?"

A: "This is Travel Fun Centre. For you to claim your prize, I will just need your credit card information."

B: "I'm sorry, I don't give out that information over the phone."

A: "Okay, well you can't claim your prize if you don't provide that information. Don't worry, you will only have to pay $200.00 for processing fees but the trip is free."

B: "No, I'm not interested, thank you. Goodbye."
