Vocabulary Practice!

Look at the list of common collocations that occur in the topics of marriage, divorce and separation. With a partner, use the phrases to create sentences that related to the topics listed below. For any unknown phrases, skim the PLS Learning About the Law wikibook, section on Learning About Family Law, or the PLS Learning About the Law (Family Law, Young People and the Law, Elder Law) booklet, section on Family Law, for examples of these phrases in use and try to guess the meaning.

legal rights	paternity test	legally married	apply for common law	legal guardian	marriage ceremony	move in court order	living arrangement	under the law	spend time with low income	sign an agreement	responsible for	marriage breakdown child support

Marriage

Divorce & Separation

When a marriage breakdown occurs, it can sometimes lead to divorce.

Research and Share!

Research and share what you learn about one of the topics below with your group.

Instructions:

- 1. Research: Consult the PLS Learning About the Law wikibook, section on Learning About Family Law, or the PLS Learning About the Law (Family Law, Young People and the Law, Elder Law) booklet, section on Family Law, as well as the following websites to find information about your topic. Record your notes in the comparison diagram on the worksheet.
 - For information about marriage, visit <http://www.vs.gov.bc.ca/marriage/howto.html>.
 - For more information about separation and divorce, visit <http://www.justicebc.ca/en/fam/basics/sep-div/index.html>.
 - For more information on agreements and mediation, visit <http://www.justicebc.ca/en/fam/help/mediators/index.html> or <http://www.mediatebc.com>.
- 2. Share: Form a group of 3 students - one person for each topic above. Share what you learned with one another. Discuss the similarities and differences between laws in Canada and in your home countries. Record notes as you listen.
- 3. Report: Report to the class one new thing you learned about a topic from one of your group members.

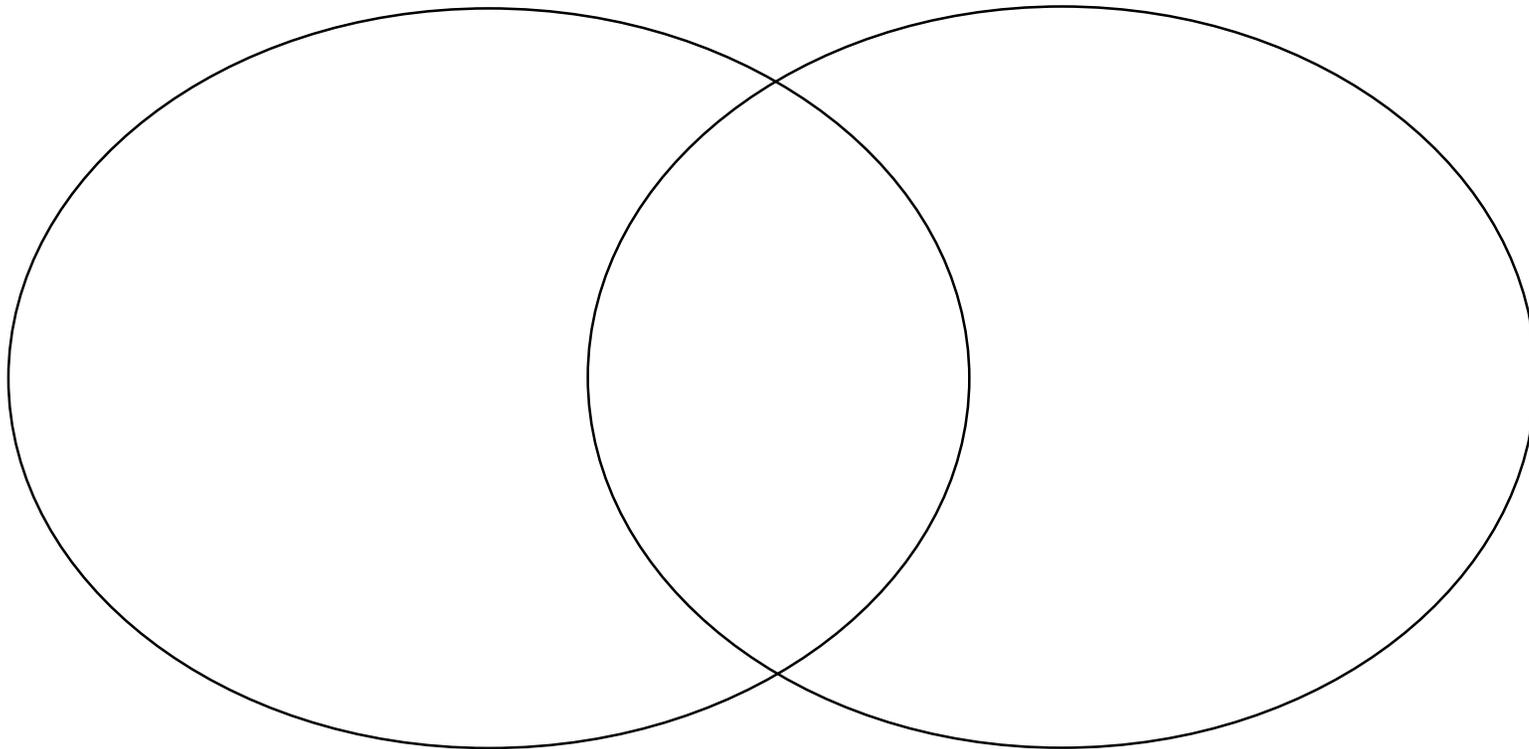

Read and Record!

Use the comparison diagram to record information you learn about the laws in Canada. Compare the laws with your home country's laws by recording the similarities in the center and the differences on the sides.

Listen and Take Notes!

As you listen to your group members share what they learned about their topic, take notes in the chart below. Discuss your opinions about family laws in Canada.

What I learned from my group members.

Being Married	Getting Separated & Divorced	Making an agreement

Discuss your Opinions!

Work with a partner. Discuss the following situations. First, discuss your own opinions and what you think should be done. Next, skim through the PLS Learning About the Law wikibook, section on Learning About Family Law, or the PLS Learning About the Law (Family Law, Young People and the Law, Elder Law) booklet p. 7-11, to find out what Canadian law states regarding these situations. Do you think the laws are fair? Why or why not?

Situation 1: Janna recently separated from her husband. They have two children and they aren't able to agree about arrangements on when and how to share the time with the children.

How do you think time should be divided?

What does Canadian law state?

Situation 2: Christina was in a relationship with Joseph. Soon after Christina got pregnant, Joseph left her. He never lived with his son. Christina wants Joseph to pay child support.

Do you think Joseph should pay child support? Why or why not?
